Ways to use your Skin Towels:

1. Cleansing. Wet your face and apply your cleanser of choice. Lightly wet the face towel and massage the face using gentle circular motions to exfoliate and remove accumulated oil, dirt, and impurities.
2. Drying. With the absorbent Skin towel, gently pat your face dry after a shower or after cleansing. It is important to use separate towels to dry the face and body to increase facial hygiene and avoid bacteria transfer.
3. Steaming. You can use the face towel to steam your face for a spa-like experience at home. Dampen the towel using warm water, wring out excess water and lay the towel over your face. Leave the towel on your face for 5-10 minutes. DO NOT use boiling or scalding water as this can lead to burns and irritation.

MAINTENANCE/STORAGE

1. Washing. Wash your face towels after every single use with hot water and a fragrance-free, gentle detergent. Do not use fabric softener as those can leave residue in the towels that will irritate your skin upon contact.
2. Drying. Drying is as important as washing. Hanging your towel in a well-ventilated area to dry fully is essential to not foster any bacteria that can cause acne. Alternatively, you can use a dryer to eliminate all bacteria.
3. Storage. Always store your towels in a dry place and avoid storing it damp for a bacteria-free storage

FAQ

FAQ 1: Should I use a separate face towel for my face and body?

Absolutely! Using a different towel to dry your face and body avoids bacteria transfer from areas of your body to your face, which helps lessen the chances of breakouts and other skin problems.

FAQ 2: Can I use a face towel to remove makeup?

Although you can use it to remove makeup, using it alone can be ineffective and irritating. It is advisable to use a makeup remover first to remove as much makeup as possible and then use a towel to remove remaining products.

FAQ 3: Can I use a face towel instead of facial cleansing brush?

Although it would not offer the same massaging benefits, face towels can be a good alternative to using a cleansing brush for exfoliation and cleansing.

FAQ 4: What detergent should I use for washing face towels?

A hypoallergenic detergent is the best choice in washing your face towels, but a gentle and fragrance-free detergents are more than enough.

FAQ 5: How often should I replace my face towels?

Generally, it is best to replace your face towels every 3-6 months but sooner depending on the wear and tear. To prolong the lifespan of your towels always properly wash and dry them
